Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

---V---

Several gentlemen of Grenada — sick and tired of the New Deal—went to Jackson Wednesday to confer with others from all over the state to see if some plan, whereby an "uninstructed" delegation be sent from Mississippi to the Chicago Democratic(?) convention, could be made.

A representative of the Collector of U. S. Internal Revenue will be at the post office Friday and Saturday to assist in guessing your 1944 income. He is upstairs and a nice young fellow at that.

Better not forget to apply for your homestead exemption from the county tax assessor before May 31.

My favorite WAVE, Virginia Collins & my assistant favorite WAVE, Page Davis, were in to see us Wednesday. The latter is sporting her first red stripe. Congratulations.

This may be old to you but it is new to me. When the colonel alighted from his car, his chauffer-sergeant gave him a kick in the pants. A private nearby came over and gave the colonel a kick. At the court martial, the sergeant explained that the kick was the reflex action when the colonel stepped on his corn. The private said, "Hell, I thought the war was over."

Mrs. John Scott is visiting her grandson, John Scott III, who is in the Marine Air Corps at Pensacola.

With all of its faults and mistakes, the OPA HAS kept down prices to a degree not yet inflationary. I am told that during the last war sugar was selling for 25 cents a pound (I do not know as I was in the army), while now it is selling for about 7 cents.

They say that the 362nd Infantry Chaplain preached a fine sermon at the Methodist Chruch Sunday, and that the regimental chorus rendered a fine sacred concert.

Just had an order for 15 copies of the March 30 issue, in which we devoted two pages to the good things done by the New Deal administration, from Lusk Lumber Company, Maben, Miss. That paper was a dampboot idea, but it certainly "took," as we printed some extra copies, and all are gone. We may have to print more.

Now, go ahead and turn in those Coca-Cola bottles as Brother Honeycutt is paying out a lot of good money seeking them. I have seen them piled up around in various places, useless, in the way, yet valuable to their owners.

Nobody can say that I have anything but good looking favorites. life is too short.

Judge Smith had better have an extra sharp cold chisel and an extra heavy hammer when he comes to open Chancery Court Monday for he is going to have to sever modt chains of matrimony than ever before. Those in want out; those out want in. Like flies.

In the hard times of the 30's, the darkies at Oxberry used to make garfish jam, but now they have plenty of money and points to eat ham and bacon.

Speaking of the hard times of the 30's, we had a dog who would get into the shallow fish pool (which the boys had laboriously built) and muddy it until the fish came to the surface, and then catch the fish and eat them. This dog also went to the field and pulled down corn stalks and ate roasting ears. That's no lie.

Uncle Joe Williams, it is reported, was seen sitting on the curb crying one day last week.

If ever uncovered, I believe the greatest national scandal will develop because of the havens and refuges that the New Deal offices in Washington offer to physically fit young men.

"Miss" Fanny Morrison called up and blessed me out because I want a change in the Democratic ( ) administration. Miss Fanny learned me grammar. Now watch her jump on me!-

Sgt. Mickey Angevine has about all the medals and ribbons that the Air Corps gives for meritorious service.

The service men and the service women are going to run this country after the war, just like the members of the Confederate Army ran the South until most of them died.

Albert Clark has done so much painting work in town that first thing you know he will forget whether the crupper goes in the mule's mouth or under the mule's tail. He is getting citified fast.

Roy Doak's preacher, who stayed in the trailer, has gone.

Graduates From Water Purification School

He was selected a squad leader in his platoon.

PVT. BRYAN BAKER, JR.

After completing basic the boys who had high (J.r.) were placed in various schools. Bryan was chosen to take a course in Water Purification. He made second high in his class.

He reported to Camp Reynolds, Pa., April 2, 1944 for an assignment.

Camp Commander Ryder Is Host To Children

As the soldier's thoughts turn to things concerning the big push we are expected to make in all theaters of war this Spring, at Camp McCain, Mississippi, a true touch of Easter was realized by hundreds of little children on Saturday, April 8, 1944 when Col. Ira E. Ryder, commanding officer of Camp FeCain, played host to the Army children and their little friends from far and wide.

Lots of things are "out" in the Army these days—but an Easter egg hunt for little Army children and their friends is very much still in—and the grounds surrounding the Commandant's Quarters at FeCain were turned into a scene of beauty, gaiety and baby's beruffled bonnets.

During the hours between three and five, literally hundreds of little children scampered over the huge green lawn, from bush to hedge, gathering vividly colored Easter eggs. An air of innocence radiated from each little face as he or she entered into the spirit of the contest.

Camp McCain has never had a more beautiful affair. In fact, few Army Posts, if any, can boast of such a perfect setting. Tables bearing refreshments for the "kiddies" were located throughout the grounds, WAC's and officers' wives assisted as hostesses, while Military Police briskly directed a no-stop traffic over the roads bounding the area.

As one entered the grounds, an atmosphere of Spring seemed to greet you, and with it the thoughts of just what a spot America is . . . what the home of the free and the land of the brave really is. An Easter egg party for Army children and their friends seemed to dwell on your mind as a symbol of the fact that no where in the world is the land more beautiful and the children more happy than right here in America.

Prizes awarded to the little children gathering the largest number of Easter eggs consisted of two whit rabbits for first prize, one white rabbit for second prize, and six colored "chicks" as third prize. Mrs. Harry J. Malony, wife of the Commanding General of the 94th Division at Camp McCain, was introduced by Mrs. Ryder at the party, and in making the awards declared, "This is simply a splendid gathering of little people, and by their expressions of your little faces one is assured that in the generation to come our heritage of American ideals will continue to flourish."

Some Of The Five Recent Recruits

Lined here before the steps of their school, Principal J. C. Hathorn, of Grenada High School proudly displays five of his students who volunteered and were sworn into the Navy during one day last week. At the extreme left is Robert Pitford of the local Navy office who "hit the jackpot" when the quintet said it was ready to take the Oath. Included in the group are twins Warner and Earl Moss in back row while the handsome trio in front shows Bobby Townes, Teddy Revell and Billy Theisman. All five boys, under a new Navy Department ruling, will remain in school until after graduation this summer when they report to training stations.

Juchheim Wins Distinguished Flying Cross

The presentation was made by Brigadier General M.C. Woodbury, Burlington, Vermont, commanding an Eighth AAF Fighter.

General Woodbury read the following citation, which accompanied Lt. Juchheim's D. F. C.: "You are awarded this Distinguished Flying Cross for extraordinary achievement in accomplishing the equivalent of fifty combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe."

He also possesses the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Lt. Juchheim flies with a Thunderbolt group in England, under the command of Colonel James J. Stone, Jr., Westfield, N. J. He has been on combat status with this crack group since early in the fall of 1943, and now has gone across the English Channel to Europe over 50-odd times. Recently he made several of the historic raids on Berlin as his group escorted large formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators deep within the German Reich.

He serves as a flight leader on the combat missions, and has done dive-bombing with his Thunderbolt P-47, carrying a 500 lb. bomb. The 22-year old fighter pilot attended Grenada High School and Sundower Junior College.

His wife, Mrs. Jane C. Juchheim, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Juchheim, reside in Grenada.

It will be noted that Lt. Juchheim has been promoted to First Lieutenant.

Soon after Mr. John Borden bought Glenwild Plantation, Mr. Finney and his family moved there. The Finneys then moved to Grenada where Mr. Finney managed the Finney Gin.

Bill Cunningham Appreciates The GCW In England

Dear Mr. Whitaker:

I want to thank you for keeping the GCW coming to me. It has moved with me through Africa, Sicily, and now I am reciving it in England. I hope to get it when I get to Berlin.

The reason I was reminded to write this letter was that, I have met a boy that took his training in Camp McCain and he said that he liked Grenada and the people that live around there. He was the first fellow that I have seen that took his training in McCain and it made me feel good to know that he liked my home county. I hope all the boys feel as he does.

Another thing I want to thank you for is that you have helped to make Grenada a better place for the soldiers' family to live in. Keep the GCW coming in always.

Bill Cunningham.

Enviable Reputation At McCain Mess for "Chow"

Camp McCain, Mississippi is a stickler for details when it comes to operating "mess kitchens." The camp has maintained an enviable reputation for efficient mess operation and good "chow" since its activation in 1942.

To further stimulate interest and pride among the organiaztion Mess Sergeant, a pennant of white of white background with Fourth Service Command and Army Service Forces insignia, together with a large letter "E" denoting "Excellent" is being awarded the mess attaining the highest degree of improvement each month.

The Commanding Officer, Colonel Ira E. Ryer, in company with Colonel R. F. Grear, Commanding Officer of the Escort Guard Battalions at Camp McCain, and Captain C. L. Payne, Post Mess Supervisor, presented the award to Sergeant Wilbert D. Thomes, mess sergeant of the 325th Escort Guard Company on April 7, 1944, for having established the highest degree of mess improvement during the month of March, 1944, at a very impressive retreat ceremony.

In commenting on the achievement attained by Sergeant Thomas, Colonel Ryder stressed the importance of a soldier's duty and a job well done. He commended the leadership of Captain Harry L. Eck, commanding the 325th Escort Guard Company, and expressed appreciation to Colonel Grear for maintaining such a high degree of efficiency and morale in his organization.

Seven Join United States Navy Last Week

Last week four white youths and three colored youths of Grenada were sent to Jackson for examination by Naval officers, passed their examinations and were given ten days at home before they are assigned to some station for preliminary training. They are: white: Charles Edward Allfred, Albert House, Jr., James Chester Byrd and John Leslie Box, Jr. Colored, Jas. Johnson, Hardy, John C. Wright and Houston Richardson, Jr.

At the outset the Navy furnishes each man $153.00 worth of clothing. The Navy pays well, feeds well, and will give the sailor a good education if he will avail himself of the opportunities offered him.

Youths of seventeen should remember that, if they volunteer in the Navy before their 18th birthday, they will be exempt from the draft, otherwise, they will have little choice in the branch of service they enter.

The Naval Recruiting office in Grenada is on the second floor of the post office and is open from 8:30 until 5:30.

Bad Eye has quit the post office steps, and that must be a bad sign.

WHEN A MAN likes his work, he thinks about it. And the more he thinks about it, the more likely he is to have a good idea for improving methods. That's the way Illinois Central people are. During 1943 they submitted 26,103 suggestions. Of these, 4,651 have been adopted, with cash awards made.

If you travel or ship by Illinois Central, these figures are significant to you. They show that to these "home folks" railroading is not merely a job. It is a career. And their attitude is reflected in their service to you.

For railroad workers are war workers. Our country's future depends on moving millions of men and millions of tons of freight—fast! No war work is more important. And, today, many more competent workers are needed to carry on in a variety of essential railroad jobs. We are counting on our "home folks" to help meet this emergency as they have so many others.

Until the war is won, our main concern is victory. Afterwards, all our workers have learned in the war years will be turned to account in improving Illinois Central service. We want to keep on earning your good will!

Where Were YOU?

WHERE WERE YOU DURING THE WAR?
WHAT DID YOU DO TO HELP?

Young men and young women, these are going to be questions asked you when the war is over.

The men and women who took part in the winning of the war are going to rule the countries they saved. An honorable discharge is going to be worth more than anything else to them.

WHERE WERE YOU?

Destroy Germany.

Germany should be destroyed and dismembered to the extent that it will never again arise—as it has done three times in the last 73 years—to wreck and ruin the civilized world. Most people are sick and tired of hearing a few who would spare "poor" Germany. The old law of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth should be used on that damnable nation of barbarians.

We recently read where Germany was preparing to turn back the sea water into the parts of Holland that the people of the latter nation had patiently reclaimed over a period of 200 years. Such a move would render useless for many years about one-third of the fertile lands of that frugal nation.

It appears that Germany's strategy might be that of rendering her neighbors so helpless that, in spite of Germany's defeat, Germany might still emerge the stronger of the conquered countries.

We of the army of 1917-1919 stopped about six months too soon. Let not that error be repeated again, otherwise Germany will arise to wreck the world in another generation.

The Dam

Whether it is good news to you or bad news, the flood news of recent days indicate that, to control the waters in the Yazoo Basin it will be necessary to build a dam on the Yalobusha River.

My information comes from an article in Tuesday's issue of the Commercial Appeal containing the following pertinent information: flood waters creep higher at Greenwood, sand bags being used to strengthen the levee about the city; although the Sardis Dam is closed, the waters have reached a crest at Swan Lake; just one gate is open at the Arkabutla Dam on the Coldwater River. In short, in spite of the fact that the Yazoo is just carrying the output of one gate on Coldwater, all of the waters on the Yokena and Yalobusha and no Tallahatchie waters, the area that the system of dams is supposed to protect is in grave danger. It is obvious, therefore, that the flood control plan to be successful MUST include a dam on the Yalobusha and, perhaps, one on Skuna.

People may as well face the facts as they are.

If Mr. Roosevelt will not accept the New Deal nomination for President, we suggest the name of that OPA official of Chicago who parked his car at 11 a. m., left it running, and did not return to his car until 5 p. m. Gas-hungry citizens of Chicago passed and repassed until finally one of them threw off the switch at 3 p. m. That man typifies the wastefulness of the New Deal.

We Don't Know How

Thousands of persons in Mississippi, and many in Grenada County, would vote against President Roosevelt for a fourth term IF THEY JUST KNEW HOW.

People who pay taxes are tired of many things being done by this administration, every one of which is wasting the people's money, and a great deal of this money in no manner connected with the conduct of the war.

They are tired of spending billions in South America buying the friendship (?) of the dictators of that democratic (?) area.

They are tired of the horde of federal snoopers, they are tired of these depression-born agencies—like the AAA—which continue in full force and effect.

They are tired of abandonment of army air bases and the building of naval air bases.

They are tired of having their money spent for air fields and ports on land to which the United States has no more title than I have to the county court house.

They are tired of the vacillating, change every day foreign policy of the United States, while its allies, England and Russia, have fixed, definite policies (and are working assiduously toward their objectives).

They are tired of their country being the "angel", the "fat mouth" and the "Sap" of the entire world.

The South could have the balance of power in the United States, and thereby control the United States, if it could get away from voting for the Democratic nominee whether that nominee is Roosevelt or a yellow dog. As it is we are like Lazarus, just getting the scraps from the table.

Since the above was written, we see where there will be held four regional conferences in the South where men who are tired of Roosevelt will boost the "Draft Byrd for President" idea. Delegates from Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee will meet at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis on the 17th, where Mike Conner, former Governor of Mississippi, will be the key note speaker. These are steps in the right direction. If the people continue to sit on their sterns and moan, "We Can't Beat Roosevelt," we might as well elect him and his heirs as Kings of the United States and be done with it.

Uninstructed Delegates

We heartily agree with many other Mississippians that the State's delegation to the national convention in Chicago be sent there "uninstructed", that is, unhampered and unrestricted as how they will vote for a Democratic nominee. Conceivably the delegates might be instructed to vote for Mr. Roosevelt. It is extremely uncertain about Mr. Roosevelt's being a candidate. Just as we should do in electing other men to represent us (whether on the city council, board of supervisors, legislature or members of the Congress), we should select men of good, sound judgment, men in whom we have confidence, then et them use their own good judgment in the matters delegated to them. Certainly we should not send men "like dumb beasts driven to the slaughter," who have no authority to exercise their judgment. Rather than do that, we might as well send our proxies and save money and room space.

Let's send an uninstructed delegation.

General Marshall Speaking

"It is important that the general public understand the Army's urgent need for women to enable the military effort to go forward according to the schedule of operations in prospect . . . The Woman's Auxiliary Corps is an integral part of the Army. Not only are there many jobs that women do as efficiently as men, but there are also jobs that women can do better than men. Aside from urgent family obligations, enlistment in the military service takes precedence over any other responsibility. I am confident that American women will answer this call to duty."

Hope Mary Meek, who has been in the hospital, will soon get on her feet again.

Some folks estimated there were more soldiers on the streets of Grenada Saturday night than ever before. They come and they go, and nobody knows where, when or why.

This is gratuitous and unsought advice. Since one member of the five-men clinic, Dr. J. S. Sharp is sick at home, be sure you really need a doctor before you call. These men are extremely busy and their time and talent should be self rationed by the citizens. If you have the bellyache, take some castor oil; if you have a simple headache, take an aspirin tablet.

Sitt and her crowd have moved.

WARM WEATHER AHEAD

Warm weather is ahead, and you know how extra hot the first warm days seem. Perhaps you can't do a great deal about the weather, but electric fans, properly placed, will do a lot towards making you more comfortable.

SAMMY BURTON

In using an electric fan, there are a few things to keep in mind. Don't let the fan blow directly on you — a gentle movement of the air in the room will do a lot more good. Place your fans properly and they'll be much more effective.

Make Your Electric Fans Last!

Fans now being made are chiefly for use by the Navy and Maritime Service. So, take good care of the fans you have . . . make them last . . . Here are a few things to remember.

1. Probably when you bought your fan it was sufficiently lubricated to need no attention for at least a year. Better make sure, though, and check the lubrication each year. Oftener, if the fan is given very hard use.
2. If the fan develops a rattle, or the blades are not turning freely, it probably needs oiling. Follow manufacturer's instructions on tag.
3. Be sure all nuts and screws are tight.

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

City Ice & Coal Co.
Grenada, - Mississippi

TO MRS. IMA BRIDE

4000 HAPPY STREET

We certainly appreciated your kind letter last week, especially your kind comments about our Fruit and Vegetable Department . . . We do feel that we are in a position to properly handle Fresh Fruits and Vegetables as well or better than any store in North Mississippi . . . We couldn't help from comparing the difference in your time and when we first married . . . Yes, back there when we started out, you could hardly ever get any Fresh Head Lettuce, Cauliflower, Mushrooms, Brussel Sprouts, Rheubarb, Pineapple or in fact anything out of your local season . . . Now we make every effort to keep a complete supply of everything that is available at all times of the year and as you probably know, the vegetable market supply shifts, for instance at certain times they come from Florida, certain times it's Texas, certain times it's Louisiana, or maybe Colorado and then at times its our own Mississippi, but the year round somewhere in our good old U. S. A.—thanks to the Railroads and their fast trains and refrigerated cars—We have a supply of fresh Fruits and Vegetables.

BUT PROBABLY IT AIN'T

Yes, Mrs. Bride, it seems like the world is getting worse and more wicked, but if you will just stop and look around you will see for yourself that aside from a few million devils that are running wild that will be dispensed with before long, everything points to a brighter day in the food business . . . For instance, right here in our own store, there is under construction and in fact nearly complete, a food locker with 400 compartments which will be a big thing for Grenada County in the way of conserving food and lowering cost of living for those families who have the foresight to use them. You can take your own vegetables and meats that are raised at your home and process them and store them in the individual locker and use them at your own convenience and cut considerable from the cost of living.

Another thing Mrs. Bride, watch the papers for an important announcement, as we want you to have all of your Aunts, Uncles, Nephews and Nieces to come in with you when we have our grand opening.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

RATIONING: ### Announce Changes

More gas, freer use of fuel oil and food coupons and ration changes in vegetables, fruits, meats and oils were announced by OPA.

To maintain the distribution business, it was announced drivers holding "B" cards will be allowed an additional 100 miles a month, while expiration dates for fuel oil coupons will be eliminated before the fall season of heavy consumption gets underway.

Because many shoppers cashed in their red and blue food coupons for tokens at expiration dates, OPA took off all time limits on the stamps.

While all frozen fruits and vegetables were taken off rationing, beef flank meat, pork liver, lamb and mutton hearts, liver, sweetbreads and tongue, beef tongue, cooked and barbecued pork spareribs and pork tongue were cut 1 point. Shortening, salad and cooking oil were slashed 1 point. Points on canned carrots and tomato juice also were reduced.

DRAFT:
Eye 4-Fs

To fill up the industrial and agricultural ranks left vacant by the drafting of all men except key workers under 26, the government called for the induction of all 4-Fs not engaged in essential occupations and a congressional committee moved to shape special legislation for such a program.

At the same time, it was revealed Selective Service was scrapping its unit system of deferring agricultural workers, only giving consideration to a man's regular employment on a farm and the problem of replacing him.

Under the government's proposal, 4-Fs doing nonessential work would be enlisted as reserves and directed to essential occupations at regular civilian pay, or they would be enrolled in labor battalions for employment at army pay if they refused to accept the assignments.

Of the nation's 3,500,000 4-Fs it was estimated that about 1,000,000 were engaged in non-essential work.

PACIFIC:
Threaten India

As bold Japanese forces thrust toward the highway hub of Imphal in India, Adm. Louis Mountbatten rallied Allied forces to a stand to hold this key to land communications all along the 600-mile Burmese front.

Admiral Mountbatten

In the Southwest Pacific area, strong U. S. naval forces again challenged the Japanese fleet to come out and fight by attacking the enemy's sea base of Palau, 460 miles from the Philippines, but the Nips once more withdrew. On New Guinea, New Britain and Bougainville, Allied ground forces continued to press the Japs, as U. S. airmen impeded reinforcement of their battered troops by shooting up shipping and bases.

Seeking to capitalize on their surprise of the Allies in India when they burst from the Burmese jungle from three points to converge on Imphal, the Japs maintained heavy pressure in the face of stiffening British resistance. Beyond Imphal lay the Bengal-Assam railroad, supplying Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's U. S. and Chinese troops pushing the Japs down the Mogaung valley in far northern Burma.

AGRICULTURE:
Food Subsidies

To peg consumer costs, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones ordered the $3,000,000,000 Commodity Credit corporation to use its powers and funds for subsidizing food prices.

In addition, the CCC was ordered to purchase, sell, store and transport food and farm products involved in the WFA's price-support and lend-lease programs.

Strongly bucked by the farm bloc in congressional debate but upheld by administration forces, the food subsidy program will cost the CCC between $650,000,000 and $800,000,000. it was estimated.

Farm Prices

Increases in returns on meat animals, feed grains, hay and oil bearing and fruit crops resulted in a one point advance in the general level of farm prices from mid-February to mid-March, the agriculture department reported.

Boosts in the above commodities more than offset declines in food grains, truck crops, and milk and egg prices, and brought the general income level to 196 of the 1909-'14 plane. A rise of one point brought prices paid by farmers to 176 of the 1909-'14 standard.

EUROPE:
In Balkans

While their lines held in northern Russia, German troops fell back to the Carpathian mountains in the south, where they were looked upon to make a stand with Hungarian and Rumanian forces recently incorporated into the Nazi armies.

As the Germans drew back in the east, Allied bombers headed over western Europe to drop their explosives over the expected invasion routes and hammer at Nazi production centers. In Italy, both sides traded punches at Anzio below Rome, while action tapered at Cassino, where Germans clung to their defensive posts.

In pushing the Germans back to the Carpathians, the Russians advanced to within 30 miles from the old Czecho-Slovak border, while farther to the southeast, they crossed the Prut river to lunge into Rumania.

Occupation Plans

From London last week came reports indicating Allied plans for postwar Europe shaped by the U. S., Russia and Britain.

With the reich's collapse, the authoritative London Sunday Observer said plans called for British occupation of western and north central Germany, U. S. control of the southern and south-central parts, and Russia of the eastern section. Symbol of Germany, Berlin would be occupied by all three powers.

Before establishment of stable government, the Big Three would also occupy Austria, and any movement for that country's union with Germany would be discouraged, with closer economic ties with the Balkans suggested.

Looking toward eastern Europe, information leaking from sources consulted on perfecting details of the Teheran agreements indicate Moscow will annex the Baltic states and eastern Poland and Balkan territory considered traditionally Russian, and exercise influence over Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

DAIRY SUBSIDIES: Charles Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers federation, told a senate committee that subsidies on dairy products would have to be increased by $200,000,000 a year to give farmers a fair return. This would raise the total paid to milk producers from $550,000,000 to $750,000,000. Holman is opposed to the whole dairy subsidy program.

SAVINGS: In the first two years of war, savings of the American people have increased by more than 50 per cent, represented by war bonds, bank deposits and life insurance. The total of these three items on January 1 of this year was 91 billion dollars. About 12 per cent of individual income goes into these forms of savings, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Planes fly in supplies and bring out crude rubber from Central American plantations. Weeks are saved by this method of transportation.

In building a battleship it takes 150,000 pounds of rubber. This is equivalent to the rubber used in the manufacture of more than 12,000 small passenger-car tires.

The first city omnibus lines, the forerunner of modern motor bus transportation, started operations over the streets of Paris in 1662.

Seventy-three per cent of the employees in 94 war plants depend upon their cars for transportation. Rubber is essential to their work.

THESE graceful corner shelves are ten inches wide and seven inches deep at the bottom. Just the right size to hold the quaint match holder, the old-fashioned china doll head and other interesting trinkets that you have been treasuring. In Victorian times such shelves were strung together with cord and the spools saved from the voluminous amount of sewing done each season. Today, with spools piling up from Red Cross sewing, we make similar shelves that have all the old charm but are much more rigid and substantial.

The spools and shelves now may be practically welded together with new easy-to-use types of glue. The wire or cord is then run through, as shown here, so that the shelves may be hung in a corner ready to hold articles of considerable weight.

• • •

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has designed an actual-size pattern for these three gracefully curved corner shelves which are graduated in size. This pattern also contains complete directions for cutting and joining these shelves as well as a pattern for another larger set of spool shelves. Ask for pattern No. 255 and enclose 15 cents. ## Difficult Job Confronts New Democratic Leaders

Chairman Hannegan, Publicist Porter, Must Rebuild Party Machine; Answer GOP Attacks on Bureaucracy.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

Bombs one day will cease bursting, ships will sail the seas undisturbed by torpedoes, and cities will no longer be levelled, but politics knows no armistice.

The political forces are already laying down their preliminary barrages.

Two weeks ago, I reported a visit to Republican headquarters up on Connecticut avenue and I attempted to outline the job that Chairman of the Republican National committee, Harrison Spangler, has laid out for himself.

Since then, I have been admitted into the front lines in the Democratic sector and now that I am back safe in limb and, I hope, sound in mind, I shall attempt to report the strategy that Field Marshal Hannegan's cohorts seem to be employing. Democratic Chairman Hannegan is a young man, who has served in the ranks and worked his way up from ward politics to City Chairman for St. Louis whence he leapt to the national chairmanship.

Just to give you a little of the atmosphere in which the Democratic GHQ operates, let me say a word about a gathering held recently in the Mayflower Hotel (which also houses the Democratic headquarters) just a few blocks down Connecticut avenue from the old residence that the GOP has taken over.

This gathering was the occasion of the retirement of Charley Michelson and the assumption of his duties as Number One publicity man for the Democratic committee by tall and personable Paul Porter, who said he felt as if somebody had put him down in Carnegie Hall, handed him Kriesler's violin, and said: "Now play."

That was a pat remark. We all know Charley Michelson. We all know Porter, who has been around Washington in one important job or another ever since the New Deal began dealing. And we know the typewriter of Charley Michelson is as hard for anyone but its possessor to play upon as Kreisler's fiddle would be. However, when I was up at Democratic headquarters a few days later, there was Charley apparently giving such aid and comfort and encouragement as might be needed from the wings.

One thing that makes it hard for the Democrats is that the Republicans are in a position to lift their copyright.

As one Democrat explained it to me, it is like this:

"Nobody will have a chance to do the job that Charley Michelson did for us from 1922 on until the election of FDR. The trouble is the Republicans are in a position to use his theme song adapted, of course, to suit their needs.

"They have already started to do to the administration just what Michelson did to Hoover. They have started to attack the war agencies and all of the administration departments and activities, exposing every blunder, playing up failures and trying to show that everything the people think are burdens and annoyances can be traced directly to the administration.

"And you know," this wise old veteran added, "what you write and say about how bad the other guy is makes a lot better reading than what you say about how good you think YOU are."

That is one obstacle Chairman Hannegan is up against although the real responsibility falls on the shoulders of Michelson's successor, Paul Porter, and they are broad shoulders with a very good newspaper head between them.

But Hannegan has another, bigger problem. It is a job for a master mechanic. It is a repair job on the Democratic machine which is euphemistically designated in the language of party politics as the "organization."

Broken Machine

Hannegan is a young, energetic, open-faced Irishman, and it is a good thing he is young and energetic and optimistic because he has had to start his job of organization at scratch. Anyone at Democratic headquarters will admit that.

The reason is revealed in this simple chronology:

Jim Farley took over a pretty well running machine built up by Raskob. Farley did a splendid job of keeping it spinning until 1936. It was a hundred-per-cent-Roosevelt-for-President machine that far. Then Farley got other ideas—one, that two terms was enough for Roosevelt, and the other was that the next term, it would be Farley. The machine changed to a one-man dog which, for four years, would only come when its master spoke and its master was Farley. After the historic split, it fell apart except as the states kept their segments intact.

So all Mr. Hannegan has to do is to put it together again if he can find all the parts.

That is the first job as far as the Democratic offensive goes.

As to the defense, they feel they already have a pretty clear picture of the Republican war plans as revealed in activities to date.

They point to the campaign that won the Republicans another seat in the House of Representatives from the first Congressional district of Colorado. The Democratic candidate was a young war hero. His Republican opponent was a business man. He had a very simple line of attack. He hammered bureaucracy, he placed the present ills of the community squarely on the head of the administration—gas rationing, for instance.

The OPA Fight

The Democrats say this pattern—damning the administration's administering—has been revealed in congress too. The fight over the OPA is a current example. Minority Leader Joe Martin announced at the beginning that nobody wanted to do away with price regulation but that present regulation must be improved. What the Democrats expect is that the Republicans will drag out the hearings as long as possible, parade what they call "a chamber of horrors" before the people, attempting to associate all the irritations, limitations and restrictions which are annoying the public, on the administration.

There are other obstacles which are a product of the time which the Democrats have to meet. They are realistic about them.

One is the fourth term, of course. That may partially be offset by the "don't change horses in the middle of a stream" argument which is counted upon to influence a great number of people who think it might be disastrous to shift leadership, whether you like it or not, while the war is going on.

Another situation which the Democrats face and about which there is little or nothing to do is the great migration of voters who have failed to establish residence in their new homes or who are in the armed forces and will not be able to vote. As one Democrat put it to me: "We know we are going to suffer more than the Republicans from this change of residence business. It isn't the man and woman who lives in a Park Avenue penthouse who moves to San Diego to work in an airplane plant; it is the hill billy who has voted Democratic all his life who moves to a war boom town and forgets to register."

Campaign Weapons

"And," he added, "it is the soldier son of families which have been re-electing Roosevelt who isn't going to get his ballot in from Kwajalein atoll or Middlesex-on-sticks, Wangleshire, Hereford, England."

Here are two main dishes the Democrats probably will offer the voter!

The first, I have already mentioned. Don't change horses . . .

The second can be encompassed in one word—work! You can call it security, or any other name that smells as sweet. But the Democrats count on the fact that the average American fears another depression, or at least temporary unemployment when the boys come home. The argument is, "They (the Democrats) did it before, they can do it again . . . the Republicans brought you panic, the New Deal got you through it."

Circumstances alter the best laid plans of mice, men and national committees, but that seems to be what they are shouting at along Connecticut avenue today.

ENDS 5-YEAR SIEGE OF CONSTIPATION!

"Now as Regular as Anyone!" Says H. C. Durand

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read:

"I'm 83 years old, and have been constipated over 5 years, going as much as 5 days without a movement. Pills and laxatives would relieve me only for the day I took them. Next day I'd be as bad as ever. Then I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Am now on my second box, and as regular as anyone could want, thanks to regular use of your wonderful product!" Mr. H. C. Durand, 321 N. Columbus Ave., Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.

Sounds like "magic," doesn't it? Yet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really can, and does, get at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins daily. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

RADIO OUT OF ORDER?

With all new radio equipment headed for the fighting fronts, your radio service man is literally swamped with repair work these days. You can help him conserve his time by making these simple home check-ups before calling.

SAMMY BURTON

Make Sure Plug is firmly in the light socket. Wires sometimes come loose from the light socket plug. With ordinary plugs the wires are easily connected with a screw driver.

Try a floor lamp in the outlet you have been using for your radio. If the lamp fails to light, a house fuse may have blown. It can be easily replaced.

Don't overlook the control switch. Your radio obviously won't work if the control switch is turned to the phonograph.

If there is a Hum in your set, reverse the plug in the light socket. One way will usually be quieter than the other.

If your set has an outside aerial and ground, make sure all wires are firmly connected. Don't merely twist your ground wire around a water pipe or radiator. Use a ground clamp.

A FEW TIMELY "DON'TS"

Don't place your radio on a hot radiator or in a closed-up space where air cannot circulate.

Don't place your radio on top of the refrigerator.

Don't place a console radio too close to the wall—allow at least 3 inches for air circulation and improved tone quality.

Don't attach a ground wire to your set unless directions specifically call for one.

Don't operate your radio in a place where you may handle it with wet hands.
